Ghurabaa

They came from every country and place

Hoping to finish first in this race

The ultimate race, but only few prepare

While others prefer not to worry or care

For their sisters being raped by a filthy animal

Or their father being killed by a ruthless infidel

They don't mind when their brothers get tortured and maimed

It’s OK when our ummah is humiliated and shamed

But in every era and every land

A select few stand tall with Quran in hand

Fearless lions because they follow Allah’s decree

So Allah placed fear in the hearts of their enemy

They sold their souls and wealth to the Most High

So in green birds their souls can fly

Under the throne of Allah in tranquility they rest

Drinking from rivers of jannah and eating fruits of the very best

Gardens, castles and wide-eyed maidens await

Men who were not afraid to meet their fate

Amongst the righteous, martyrs, faithful and prophets they rest

Such a status only for those who pass the test

These are the ghurabaa of our time

Strangers amongst even their own kind

Plucked out from ever tribe and place

Harmed not are they by any country or race

Those who oppose them and those who forsake them

Have never been an issue, obstacle or problem
Their reliance is upon Allah alone
For this deen, the earth they are prepared to roam
To raise high the banner of tawheed
Higher than any system, law or creed
Ignoring boarders drawn up by Sykes and Picot
Two tyrants of this era for the Muslims who do not know
Passports cancelled; wanted by every government
Nothing deters them to strive for the world's betterment
In a world filled with man-made constitutions
They know that there is really only one solution
To fight as long as there is a Muslim calling
A power like this, there is no chance of defeating
Allah's promise that we believe in absolutely
And for this, we leave behind the dunya and its beauty
Free from the shackles of imperialistic slavery
We stand with our heads high, hearts filled with bravery
“Laa Hawla wa laa quwata illa billah” is our motto
No power belongs to anyone but Allah, so only He we follow
From Africa, Arabia, Asia and Europe they came
To fulfill the promise of Allah so Islam can reign
O Allah! Accept our Hijrah and jihad
And give us your promised victory in every land
